

Manufacturing

Technology

- Accurate indoor positioning systems for mobile manipulators, particularly in dynamic environments.
- Sensor based safety systems to enhance human robot interaction.
- Higher levels of realism in system modelling to speed application development.
- Reactive planning and control able to operate a robot safely in real industrial environments.